Shiksha Mandal, a century-old institution in Wardha, was founded by Shri Jamnalal Bajaj, has been deeply rooted in India's freedom struggle and Gandhiji's ideologies. The nation's first education conference was held in Shiksha Mandal in 1937, presided over by Gandhiji which gave rise to the idea of Naye or Buniyadi Talim. It started with a hostel in 1914 and expanded to schools, colleges, and institutes focusing on commerce, science, rural development, and technology. The institution's excellence is reflected in its 'A' grade ratings, awards like the "Ideal Educational Institution Award," and prominent alumni like Shri Nitin Gadkari.

Shiksha Mandal's Motto, 'Aadanahi Visargaya' (whatever is gained is for sharing), underscores its commitment to value-based education at affordable cost. The institution upholds values like merit, honesty, justice, simplicity, and social responsibility. Shiksha Mandal nurtures students regardless of their financial resources and provides special scholarships for those striving to improve ensuring equal opportunity to all. The medium of instruction is mainly English, with sections in Hindi and Marathi in commerce colleges. The policy of merit is scrupulously followed in admissions, assessments, recruitment and administration. Its infrastructure includes sprawling campuses, libraries with extensive collections, computer labs, and internet connectivity.

Harbinger of Change

Autonomy and NEP - 2020

G.S. College of Commerce & Economics, Nagpur, which came into being in 1945 as the City's first Commerce College, has from the beginning always enjoyed a reputation as a premier Commerce College in the region not only because of its consistent curricular, co- and extra-curricular performances, or its rich alumni profile, but also because of its innovative approaches to Commerce Education which had given shape and substance to the Nagpur University's Faculty of Commerce in the last century.

The new century brought in new ideas which pervade all spheres of life and suddenly it became obvious that Education, especially Higher Education, needed to be more innovative, more challenging and more meaningful to cope up with demands of the new century. Shiksha Mandal, Wardha, which had witnessed the whole of 20th century, from 1914 to be precise, also welcomed the new century with a new vision. Always alive to the demands of stakeholders, it realized that the traditional University curricula do not really incorporate the latest knowledge nor are the present teaching-learning methodologies adequate enough to mould students on the desired lines.

Differently put, we disseminate in the name of knowledge a syllabus, which at best could be described as too limited, and, at worst, as too inflexible and outdated. It seldom does incorporate the most current and the most relevant, not because it is intended as such but because it cannot be otherwise owing to the prevalent university systems of framing syllabi of various courses. This creates, firstly, a huge gap between what the students really want and what they are actually given in classrooms, and, secondly, they fall short of expectations of the industry/ job market which thrives on the latest and the updated.

The most relevant courses and foolproof systems of evaluation along with the usage of modern teaching-learning methods and use of ICT have now become the necessities, rather than exceptions, of higher education scene in India. Especially in Commerce, where things are often fluid, the syllabi need to be constantly updated if not revised. The present university systems, unfortunately, do not have that flexibility.

UGC's Scheme of Autonomy offers some concrete solutions to these issues. Firstly, autonomy bestows upon an institution the freedom of conducting and designing the courses which may or may not be conducted by the university. Secondly, it grants to institution the freedom to implement its own evaluative mechanism in consonance with the UGC guidelines. With these two measures at disposal, teachers can indeed mould students to their hearts' desires and industry's expectations, and carve out successful professionals out of them.

Shiksha Mandal, ever committed to providing quality education to its students thus resolved to make its colleges autonomous for better fulfillment of its mission and now three of its colleges, Bajaj College of Science (formerly J. B. Science College), Wardha, G. S. College of Commerce & Economics, Nagpur and G.S. College of Commerce, Wardha are already autonomous.

To perform its new responsibilities as an autonomous college, G. S. College of Commerce & Economics, Nagpur, made extensive preparations. It re-designed its existing courses and also designed new degree programmes of B.Com. (Honours) and B.Com. (Finance & Accountancy) which got underway from 2020-21 and B.Com. (Business Administration) will be implemented from the session 2024-2025. Our teachers have already visited some renowned autonomous institutions in the country like St. Xavier's and KJ Somaiya in Mumbai, and Christ University, Bangalore and studied their systems. It has already constituted its Governing Body, Academic Council and Boards of Studies as per the UGC Guidelines and finalized its methods and procedures for the smooth implementation of autonomy.

The National Education Policy NEP 2020, was successfully implemented from the session 2023-2024.

NEP-2020 provides for multiple-Entry & Exits, flexibility in choosing programs and bifurcation of course content into major/minor courses & various baskets. Keeping in tune with policy framework of NEP, the college has redesigned its autonomy syllabi and incorporated new changes in the structure of syllabi to make it competent & useful for the students.

The College has introduced from the session 2013-14, a special skill building programme for students of Senior college called as the 'GS Skill Upgradation Network - GS- SUN'. The training programme has the following objectives :

- To provide to students practical training by exposing them to Business/ Industry through a network of Alumni.
- To enable students to get a first hand feel of Job complexities in the competitive world outside.
- To groom students to acquire Communication and ICT skills.

The Programme is implemented in the following phases :

A) Pre-internship grooming: Since students selected for internships will have to spend minimum of 9-12 months with the professionals/corporate, it is imperative that they should be given a pre-internship training for acquiring those skills which are the pre-requisite qualifications for a good internship programme. We therefore conduct a six-month Grooming Programme at the UG/PG level for all Part I students. This involves training for the acquisition of communication skills and proficiency in ICT, computerized accounting, e-filing of all tax returns etc. This training will help students to learn more once they are into actual internships. Students selected for this programme have to deposit Rs. 3000/- towards registration and caution money. Caution money of Rs. 2000/- will be refunded to them only after the successful completion of their internship terms.

B) Practical training/internship: Those students who successfully complete the Grooming Programme would be shortlisted for internship. The duration of practical training/internship will be 9-12 months spread over two sessions of Part II & Final (UG) and over two semesters of PG. The timings for internship terms will be from 1.00 p.m. to 6.00 p.m. Students may also be offered stipends from their respective firms/college.

C) Placements: All those student-internees who successfully complete their internship terms may be absorbed by their respective employers. The college also recommends to reputed companies the names of deserving candidates for placements during campus recruitment.
